No you will continue to do the duties as assigned. They are within your education role and scope. I will let you know if a duty is to be reassigned.

Does that also mean that the additional duties that have been assigned to me (Informaticist duties such as all the additional ANSOS duties and Contract duties etc…) will be reassigned elsewhere since there is such a demand for education in the hospital? If so who do I need to give hand-off report too? I just want to ensure I have a clear understanding of current expectations and changes to my position.

The tele work agreement states that the supervisor can stop the tele work at any time. There is a need for education in house after the recent Joint Commission Survey. The other educators have been returned to their department as of Monday October 25th as well.

Thank you.

Alicia,

The Collective Bargaining agreement states in

Article 6 Section 12. Notification of Shift Change/Tour of Duty

It is agreed that except when necessary to prevent the Employer from being adversely impacted in the operation of its functions, or to forestall a substantial increase in operational cost, seven (7) days advance written notice will be provided to an employee whose shift/tour of duty is to be changed.

I am requesting that this not occur until Nov 1st.
