Kevin,

I appreciate everything you do for the clinic. In that regard, the focus of our first CCC meeting was primarily on one's workload and complaints regarding other issues. I didn't think the meeting was beneficial to me, and I don't think it's important to gather every week. Throughout the meeting, I had the impression that nobody wanted to speak up or take part since one of my coworkers kept bringing up unrelated issues. I think the coworker should show more consideration for other people by making an appointment with you to discuss her other issues, rather than interrupting our CC meeting. After a desk audit was ordered, I sat there too afraid to participate in the meeting. I've encountered this person twice since I started working, and I find her acts unacceptable. I've attached a list of the incidents. I do value the effort that everyone does for the company. I wish we could all cooperate in the future rather than compete with one another! I want to work in a hostile-free atmosphere.

Humbly,
Bertha Edison, RNCC

As you kindly know, from February 14, 2022, I have been working as Clinic Care Coordinator for the reputable company Phoenix Indian Medical Center. I've been performing all of my tasks and responsibilities to the best of my ability, and I have a solid history in every way.
Unfortunately, I have been experiencing a difficult situation that has never arisen before in my whole career. I've had a couple of events with Toni Greve, CCC, for some time now because of the way she often harasses and attacks people. My coworker, Toni Greve, tries to intimidate me when she approaches me. At first, I gave her the benefit of the doubt and disregarded it, but then she went beyond what was reasonable. She has expressed regret for her actions, but she still persists. Almost all staff members don't like working with her, she is rude and aggressive and on top of that, she thinks that she is always right.

On March 24, 2022 at approximately 2:00 pm- Toni furiously approached me at my desk and said, "Why are you scheduling patients with the Ocotillo providers, this patient has already seen Dr. Richardson and he should be empaneled with him? The patient should schedule an appointment with Dr. Richardson, according to the PIMC policy and practice for empanelment, which was referenced by the speaker. I replied okay and simply nodded my head as she continued to discuss the procedure and policy. She said, "Liz ought to know the rules by now."
Liz, RNCC, rose up and said, "The rules do not say that, the patient did not establish care with Dr. Richardson, there is no note in the patient chart addressing establishing care, and Dr. Jim was next."
Toni kept talking while furiously walking away since she still didn't agree with it. She came up to me in front of my coworkers, and I was embarrassed by what she said. I went to see Dr. Baek with Liz, and we told her about the incident. My witness was Liz Hill.

On July 12, 2022 at 3:00 pm- Toni, CCC, called me today. She asked me why I was adding new patients to her teams since she claims to have 10 physicians while the rest of us only have 4-5. I informed her that it was only fair for all service providers to add a new patient down the list. But Brenda's job is Brenda's job, not yours, so why are you doing it, she continued. When I told her that I had been given the Peds transition panel/assignment. She inquired as to when I had received this task; I replied that it had been a few months, but she insisted that neither it was my responsibility nor was it part of my job description. She answered, "That's all I need to know" and hung up after I informed her that you and Dr. Baek were responsible for assigning the Peds panel.

I am informing you about the recent encounters that have created a hostile atmosphere in my working environment. I feel like I have been subjected to insults and derogatory remarks by her, Toni Greve.
We must all take proactive measures to be sure employees are aware of, understand and abide by our Workplace Harassment Policy and the U.S. EEOC Sexual Harassment Guidelines.

Sincerely,
Bertha Edison, RNCC
